

Cookies

By continuing to browse our site, you consent to our placing cookies on your computer (unless you have chosen to disable them via your browser).

What is a cookie?

Cookies are small encrypted text files that are stored on your computer or other device when visiting this website.

Our website requires the use of session cookies to enable you to be able to browse. We use cookies to count the number of visitors to the website but they are deleted when you exit the website.

At no point do our cookies store your personal payment information.

It is possible to turn off your cookies through your website browser settings however this will affect the functionality and experience of our site. Please visit the help section of your website browser to learn how to turn your cookie settings off.